

Attorney Docket No. 039751.0302546

- (a) hybridizing a first primer to a first portion of a target sequence, wherein said first primer further comprises an adapter sequence;
- (b) hybridizing a second primer to a second portion of said target sequence wherein said first portion of said target sequence and said second portion of said target sequence are not adjacent;
- (c) extending either said first primer or said second primer towards the other;
- (d) ligating said first and second primers together to form a modified primer;
- (e) contacting said adapter sequence of said modified primer or its complement with an array comprising:
 - i) a substrate with a surface comprising discrete sites; and
 - ii) a population of microspheres comprising at least a first subpopulation comprising a first nucleic acid capture probe, such that said first capture probe and an amplification product of said modified primer form a hybridization complex; wherein said microspheres are distributed on said surface; and
- (f) detecting the presence of said modified primer, to thereby detect said nucleic acid sequence.
